INTRODUCTION TO LADAKH-HILFE e.V.

(Translates as: Ladakh-Aid)

Ladakh-Hilfe e.V., a German non-profit, non-governmental organisation, was founded in 2003 by physiotherapist Karola Wood who went to Ladakh to treat a child with Cerebral Palsy. At that time she realized that there were many other untreated children with similar conditions and that they and their families desperately needed support in how to deal with their situation. In July 2004 the organisation started sending professional physiotherapists and occupational therapists from Europe to Ladakh to work as volunteers and train local workers.

INTRODUCTION TO REWA SOCIETY

In 2008 local supporters founded the NGO "REWA SOCIETY, Ladakh Disabled Children Group" in cooperation with Ladakh-Hilfe e.V.

This local NGO has been carrying on the work providing professional care to the disabled with the help of local employees, who have been extensively trained for the work. In 2011 we started a branch in Kargil, REWA NA KASCO, serving the Kargil District.

HOW DOES PROFESSIONAL THERAPY HELP CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES?

Physiotherapy uses movement, manual techniques and aids to encourage and increase the child's ability to move in a more coordinated way and improve their functional ability.

Occupational therapy helps the child to perform daily activities and become as independent as possible. Both therapies and other professional care support the child's development. Family members are instructed how to continue the therapy at home.
